

Intersectionality: Race, Adverse Childhood Experiences, and Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities with Dr. Tanikka Price

Learning Outcomes

Participants will:

- Explain how intersectionality affects individuals living with a disability
- Define Adverse Childhood Experiences
- Recognize the bigger picture of how trauma experienced in childhood can be informing clients behavior
- Distinguish cultural implications of adverse childhood experiences and how they may affect disability
- Relate how personal trauma can impact working with clients.

This self-paced session is led by Dr. Tanikka Price. Join this dynamic and compassionate leader as she supports participants in discovering the way identity, gender, race, ability, and sexual orientation intersect. Have you ever wondered about the way Adverse Childhood Experiences can affect your identity? If you have ever wondered about these topics, join her for an information-packed session!

Register Now!

Consortium for Health Education in Appalachia Ohio is approved as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the Midwest Multistate Division, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. The Consortium for Health Education in Appalachia Ohio's Midwest MSD Provider Approval# is: OH224-4 and approval is in place through January 31, 2027.

